

Roberta Edwards AAPS, PSQA – Toowoomba

My photographic journey started when I was quite young helping my father in his dark room. He then let me use his camera occasionally and we would then develop and print the pictures. Since winning my very first camera in a competition, I have owned a camera in one form or another, just taking happy snaps of friends and family and when travelling.

I bought my first DSLR in 2011. I joined a local photography group to mix with other like minded people. Most of my skills I have been either self taught or YouTube taught. I joined Toowoomba Photographic Society after winning first place in one of the sections of the local show's photographic competition. The club focus of TPS is continuous learning and teaching. Since joining TPS, my photography has improved and I have honed my skills greatly.

I like helping others learn how to stretch themselves with their photography, and after being consistently asked for help by others decided to look at becoming a judge.

My favourite genres are scapes (land, sea, urban etc), night, flowers, and creative, basically anything that takes my fancy, including motor sports and panning. I am currently learning Social Documentary/Street Photography.
